NOTICE OF REMOVAL

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that Red Violet, Inc. (“Red Violet”), by and through undersigned counsel, Troutman Pepper Hamilton Sanders LLP, and pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1441, hereby removes this action from the Superior Court of New Jersey, Law Division, Monmouth County, to the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey. The grounds for removal are as follows:

I. BACKGROUND

1. On February 7, 2024, plaintiffs Edwin Maldonado, Scott Maloney, Justyna Maloney, Patrick Colligan, William Sullivan and Jane Does 1-2 (collectively, the “Individual Plaintiffs”) and Atlas Data Privacy Corporation (“Atlas”) (collectively, “the Plaintiffs”) filed a complaint (“Complaint”) against Red Violet in the Superior Court of New Jersey, Law Division, Monmouth County (the “Superior Court”). Atlas purports to be the “assignee” of the claims of more than 19,000 “Covered Persons” under New Jersey’s Daniel’s Law, N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1, et seq., and N.J.S.A. 56:8-166.1, and the Individual Plaintiffs also purport to be “Covered Persons”.

2. A true and correct copy of the Complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

3. In Count One of the Complaint, Plaintiffs assert claims against Red Violet for violations of N.J.S.A. 47:1A-1, et seq., and N.J.S.A. 56:8-166.1, based on an alleged failure to timely process requests to not “disclose” their addresses and/or unpublished telephone numbers. See Ex. A ¶¶ 56–62.

4. Plaintiffs allege they are each entitled to recover from Red Violet “actual damages not less than liquidated damages under Daniel’s Law, at $1,000 per violation,” along with punitive damages; attorneys’ fees, interest (pre- and post- judgment), and litigation costs. See Ex. A at p. 23 (WHEREFORE CLAUSE (B)).

5. Plaintiffs also each allege they are entitled to “injunctive relief” with respect to the “protected information” of each “Individual Plaintiff” and each unnamed “Covered Person.” Id. at (E).

6. Red Violet was served with copies of the Summons and the Complaint on February 23, 2024. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1446(a), the (1) Summons, (2) Complaint, (3) Case Information Statement, (4) Track Assignment Notice, (5) Document Preservation Letter, (6) First Request for the Production of Documents, and (7) First Set of Interrogatories that constitute all pleadings, process, or orders served upon Red Violet in this Action. Copies of those documents are attached as Exhibit B.

7. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1446(b), this Notice of Removal is being filed with this Court within thirty (30) days of Red Violet’s receipt “through service or otherwise, of a copy of the initial pleading setting forth the claim for relief upon which such action or proceeding is based.”

8. This case is removable pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332, 1367, and 1441(a) because: (1) this case satisfies the Class Action Fairness Act’s (“CAFA”) “class action” requirements; (2) in the alternative, this case meets CAFA’s “mass action” requirements; and (3) in the alternative, complete diversity of citizenship exists between the real parties in interest and the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000, exclusive of interest and costs, for at least one Plaintiff.

A. CAFA “CLASS ACTION” JURISDICTION

9. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d), a district court has jurisdiction over a “class action” in which: (1) the amount in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $5 million (the “amount in controversy” requirement); and (2) any member of a class of plaintiffs is a citizen of a state different from any defendant (the “minimal diversity” requirement). Id.

i. This is a “class action” within the meaning of CAFA

10. 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(1)(B) defines a “class action” as “any civil action filed under Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure or similar State statute or rule of judicial procedure authorizing an action to be brought by 1 or more representative persons as a class action.” Id.

11. “CAFA does not require . . . exactitude.” W. Virginia ex rel. McGraw v. Comcast Corp., 705 F. Supp. 2d 441, 453 (E.D. Pa. 2010). Rather, under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d), a district court has jurisdiction in an action “brought pursuant to any rule sufficiently similar to Rule 23,” or if there is “any rule that would [] permit” such a suit “to be brought as a class action under [state] law.” Erie Ins. Exch. v. Erie Indem. Co., 722 F.3d 154, 160 (3d Cir. 2013). “Failing to affix ‘class action’ to a pleading” cannot “deprive [the district court] of jurisdiction” under CAFA. Id.

12. If courts “interpreted ‘any civil action filed under Rule 23 or a state-law analogue’ to refer only to cases that specifically mention Rule 23 or a state law analogue,” then “a plaintiff could avoid federal jurisdiction for a lawsuit that resembles a class action in all respects simply by omitting from the complaint the name of the rule or statute under which she proceeds.” Williams v. Employers Mutual Casualty Company, et al., 845 F.3d 891, 901 (8th Cir. 2017). “[A]llowing class-action plaintiffs to avoid federal jurisdiction simply by omitting explicit reference to the class-action rule they intend to proceed under would promote the kind of procedural gaming CAFA was enacted to prevent.” Id.

13. This case meets all the requirements of a class action in New Jersey, and it is a class action in substance.

14. New Jersey Court Rule 4:32 provides that “[o]ne or more members of a class may sue or be sued as representative parties on behalf of all only if (1) the class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable, (2) there are questions of law or fact common to the class, (3) the claims or defenses of the representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the class, and (4) the representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class.”

15. Atlas claims that more than 19,000 Covered Persons “assigned” their claims to Atlas and therefore Atlas is purportedly suing in its individual capacity. However, Atlas is acting as the purported representative of a class of more than 19,000 unnamed Covered Persons, rendering this case a “class action” under CAFA for two reasons.

16. First, Atlas is seeking injunctive relief and a court order requiring Defendants to “comply with Daniel’s Law, and remove the Individual Plaintiffs’ and the Covered Persons’ protected information wherever disclosed.” Ex. A at p. 23 (WHEREFORE clause (E)). Atlas – a corporate entity that would not constitute a “Covered Person” under Daniel’s Law – cannot benefit from an injunction or court order requiring Red Violet remove the protected information of third-party individuals. Therefore, Atlas is plainly seeking relief on behalf of its purported “assignors” in a “representative” capacity. N.J. Ct. R. 4:32.

17. Second, removal cannot be defeated based on an “apparent assignment of claims.” Wright & Miller, Federal Practice and Procedure, § 3723.1 (Rev. 4th ed.) (“Wright & Miller”). And, Atlas’ purported “assignment” is, at most, a representation agreement.

18. Daniel’s Law defines an “assignee” as “a person or entity to whom or which an

20. The remaining requirements of New Jersey Court Rule 4:32 are satisfied, as Atlas purports to represent more than 19,000 Covered Persons with purportedly common claims and overlapping facts. See N.J. Ct. R. 4:32.

21. Therefore, CAFA’s requirement that there exist a state “rule that would . . . permit” this lawsuit “to be brought as a class action under [state] law” is satisfied. Erie Ins. Exch., 722 F.3d at 160.

ii. CAFA’s amount in controversy requirement is satisfied.

22. CAFA requires the amount in controversy exceed $5 million. 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d).

23. Plaintiffs allege each Individual Plaintiff, and Atlas on behalf of more than 19,000 unnamed Covered Persons, is entitled to actual damages of “not less than” $1,000. See Ex. A at p. 23 (WHEREFORE clause (B)). Therefore, the amount in controversy as to the claim for actual/liquidated damages alone is more than $19 million, far exceeding the CAFA amount in controversy threshold of $5 million.

iii. CAFA’s minimal diversity requirement is satisfied.

24. Finally, there is minimal diversity between Plaintiffs and Red Violet.

25. Red Violet’s principal place of business is in Florida and it is incorporated in Delaware. See Stio Decl. ¶ 6. For the purposes of diversity, therefore, Red Violet is a citizen of Florida and Delaware.

26. One or more of the Individual Plaintiffs are citizens of New Jersey. See Ex. A ¶¶ 15-23. CAFA’s class action minimal diversity of citizenship requirement is, therefore, also satisfied. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d).

B. CAFA “MASS ACTION” JURISDICTION

27. Even if the Court determines that the case could not have been brought as a class action under New Jersey Court Rule 4:32 for purposes of CAFA class action jurisdiction, Atlas’ claims are removable under CAFA’s “mass action” provision.

28. CAFA defines a “mass action” as any civil action “in which monetary relief claims of 100 or more persons are proposed to be tried jointly on the ground that the plaintiffs’ claims involve common questions of law or fact.” 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(11)(B)(i). A district court has “mass action” jurisdiction under CAFA over any of those 100 or more “plaintiffs whose claims in a mass action satisfy the jurisdictional amount” of $75,000. Id.

29. Even if Atlas’ purported “assignments” were effective, the claims of more than 19,000 unnamed Covered Persons constitute “claims of 100 or more persons” that are “proposed to be tried jointly.” 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(11)(B)(i). That is because, to prevail in this case, each of the more than 19,000 unnamed Covered Persons will have to prove at trial: (1) that they are “Covered Persons” under Daniel’s Law; (2) Red Violet failed to comply with Daniel’s Law; and (3) they were harmed by Red Violet’s alleged violations and can therefore recover monetary damages. N.J.S.A. § 56:8-166.1. There are, therefore, far more than 100 “claims” to be tried in this action.

30. CAFA mass action jurisdiction also is confirmed by [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

31. Further, because “the assignee steps into the shoes of the assignor,” 29 Williston on Contracts § 74:56 (4th ed. 1999), any defenses that could be asserted against the unnamed parties in interest can also be asserted against Atlas, including “defenses based on where and how the claims may be prosecuted.” Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc. v. E. Mushroom Mktg. Coop., No. 06-0620, 2020 WL 5211035, at *11 (E.D. Pa. Sept. 1, 2020). The assignors are, therefore, “persons” whose “monetary relief claims . . . are proposed to be tried jointly” as required by the CAFA mass action provision.

32. Additionally, as noted above, this lawsuit seeks injunctive relief for each of the Individual Plaintiffs and more than 19,000 unnamed Covered Persons. That claimed injunctive relief would apply only to individuals and their claimed “protected information” under Daniel’s Law, and not to Atlas (a corporation), meaning (again) that there are “claims of 100 or more persons” to be tried in this action.

33. Finally, Atlas claims an entitlement to the proceeds of the than 19,000 unnamed Covered Persons, with Atlas claiming the right to be paid more than $19 million in “liquidated” damages alone in this case [REDACTED]

██████████ Thus, the amount in controversy as to Atlas far exceeds the $75,000 amount in controversy for purposes of CAFA mass action jurisdiction, meaning that Atlas' claims can be removed. For the reasons set forth in Section III below, the claimed value of each unnamed Covered Person's claim also exceeds $75,000, meaning that their claims can also be removed under CAFA mass action jurisdiction.

C. JURISDICTION UNDER 28 U.S.C. § 1332

34. This Court can also exercise diversity jurisdiction over this case under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a), whereby a district court shall have original jurisdiction over a civil action when the matter in controversy exceeds the sum of $75,000, exclusive of interest and costs, and is between citizens of different states. Id.

i. The diversity requirement is satisfied.

35. For purposes of determining diversity, a corporation is deemed to be a citizen of: (1) any state where it is incorporated; and (2) the state in which it has its principal place of business. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1). However, “[i]n determining whether there is diversity jurisdiction, a district court must consider the citizenship of defendants who are ‘real and substantial parties to the controversy.’” Walsh v. Defs., Inc., 894 F.3d 583, 589 (3d Cir. 2018) (quoting Navarro Sav. Ass’n v. Lee, 446 U.S. 458, 460 (1980)).

36. Atlas, like Red Violet, is incorporated in Delaware. However, the Delaware incorporation can be disregarded under § 1332(a), as Atlas is ██████████

██████████ Wright & Miller § 3641.3 (“[A] number of federal courts have refused to ignore the possibility that a plaintiff may have engaged in a collusive attempt to manipulate the forum for a particular lawsuit and have retained removed cases on the basis of diversity jurisdiction after they have inquired into the validity of a state law transaction.”); see also Attorneys Trust v. Videotape Computer Products, Incorporated, 93 F.3d 593, 597 (9th Cir. 1996) (holding that courts are “sensitive to and concerned by manipulations of their jurisdiction with partial assignments which lack reality and amount to no change in the identity of the party with the real interest in the outcome of the case”); Grassi v. Ciba-Geigy, Limited, 894 F.2d 181, 185 (5th Cir. 1990) (affirming diversity jurisdiction due to collusive assignment, and holding that courts have “both the authority and responsibility . . . to examine the motives underlying a partial assignment which destroys diversity and to disregard the assignment in determining jurisdiction if it be found to have been made principally to defeat removal”); JMTR Enterprises, L.L.C. v. Duchin, 42 F. Supp. 2d 87, 90 (D. Mass. 1999) (“Under these circumstances, the assignment of this fractional interest should not have the effect of depriving . . . the noncitizen, of the federal forum which Congress has provided.”). Therefore, Atlas is not a real party in interest, and its citizenship can be disregarded. See id.

37. For purposes of determining diversity, a natural person is deemed to be a citizen of the state of domicile, which is generally defined as “the place where that individual has a true, fixed home and principal establishment, and to which, whenever that person is absent from the jurisdiction, he or she has the intention of returning.” 13E Fed. Prac. & Proc. Juris. § 3612 (3d ed.). Factors to be considered in determining the state of domicile include a presumption that “that a person's current residence is also his domicile,” and “voter registration and voting practices,” “place of employment or business” “as well as several other aspects of human life and activity.” Id.

38. Plaintiff Jane Doe-1 alleges in the Complaint that she is a “decorated veteran police officer working in Northern New Jersey.” See Ex. A ¶ 15. As an active law enforcement officer, Plaintiff Jane Doe-1’s principal residence must be in the State of New Jersey, as required by N.J.S.A. 52:14-7 and N.J.S.A. 40A:14-122.8. Accordingly, Jane Doe-1 is therefore a citizen of New Jersey for federal diversity purposes under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(1).

39. Plaintiff Jane Doe-2 alleges that she is “a veteran correctional police officer who lives in Northern New Jersey.” See Ex. A ¶ 16. Jane Doe-2 is therefore a citizen of New Jersey for federal diversity purposes under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(1).

40. Plaintiff Edwin Maldonado (“Maldonado”) was employed as a patrol officer for the City of Plainfield, and is currently employed as a detective with the Union County Prosecutor’s Office. See Ex. A ¶17 and Stio Decl. Ex. 2. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14-7 and N.J.S.A. 40A:14-122.8, all active law enforcement officers must have their principal residence in the State of New Jersey. Plaintiff Maldonado is therefore a citizen of New Jersey for federal diversity purposes under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(1).

41. Plaintiffs Scott Maloney and Justyna Maloney (the “Maloneys”) allege they are “both veteran police officers currently serving with the Rahway, New Jersey Police Department” who “live together in New Jersey.” See Ex. A ¶ 18. The Maloneys are therefore citizens of New Jersey for federal diversity purposes under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(1).

42. Plaintiff Patrick Colligan (“Colligan”) alleges that he is a thirty-two-year veteran of the Franklin Township, Somerset County, New Jersey police department. See Ex. A ¶ 22. Plaintiff Colligan is listed as a Police Detective on the website for the Franklin Township Police Department. See Stio Decl., Ex. 3. Plaintiff Colligan is therefore a citizen of New Jersey for federal diversity purposes under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(1). See N.J.S.A. 52:14-7 and N.J.S.A. 40A:14-122.8.

43. Plaintiff William Sullivan (“Sullivan”) alleges that he is an eighteen-year veteran of the New Jersey Department of Corrections and serves as the President of New Jersey PBA

Local 105. Plaintiff Sullivan is listed as a current Department of Corrections employee in the online Employee Phone Directory for the State of New Jersey. Pursuant to N.J.S.A. 52:14-7 and N.J.S.A. 40A:14-122.8, all active law enforcement officers must have their principal residence in the State of New Jersey. Plaintiff Sullivan is therefore a citizen of New Jersey for federal diversity purposes under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(1).

44. Defendants Richard Roes, 1–10, are identified in the Complaint as “fictitious names of unknown individuals,” and as such, their citizenship may be disregarded for the purposes of removal. 28 U.S.C. § 1441(a); see also Abels v. State Farm Fire & Cas. Co., 770 F.2d 26, 37 (3d Cir. 1985) (“In determining whether diversity jurisdiction exists, the citizenship of purely ‘nominal’ parties may be disregarded.”)

45. Defendants ABC Corporations, 1–10, are identified in the Complaint as “fictitious names of unknown entities,” and as such, their citizenship may be disregarded for the purposes of removal. See Abels, 770 F.2d at 37.

46. Red Violet is a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in the State of Florida. See Stio Declaration ¶ 6. Red Violet is, therefore, a citizen of Florida and Delaware for purposes of 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(1).

47. Because Plaintiffs are deemed citizens of New Jersey and Red Violet is deemed a citizen of Florida and Delaware, complete diversity of citizenship exists between the parties in this Action.

ii. The amount in controversy requirement is satisfied

48. Where, as here, a plaintiff does not specify an amount in controversy, a defendant can satisfy its burden to establish the amount in controversy by demonstrating that the allegations in the Complaint indicate that it is more likely than not that the amount exceeds $75,000. See Dart Cherokee Basin Operating Co., LLC v. Owens, 574 U.S. 81, 89 (2014) (where plaintiff makes no specific monetary demand, defendant need only “plausibl[y] alleg[e]” amount in controversy); accord Auto-Owners Ins. Co. v. Stevens & Ricci Inc., 835 F.3d 388, 395 (3d Cir. 2016); Angus v. Shiley Inc., 989 F.2d 142, 146 (3d Cir. 1993) (stating that amount in controversy is measured by “a reasonable reading of the value of the rights being litigated”). The language in paragraph 25 of the Complaint in in the WHEREFORE clause (B) on page 23 of the Complaint establishes that the amount in controversy in this action exceeds $75,000.

49. In Paragraph 25 of the Complaint, Atlas alleges it is the assignee of the claims of 19,028 unnamed “Covered Persons”. See Ex. A ¶25.

50. In addition to Atlas, seven Individual Plaintiffs assert claims against Red Violet for alleged violations of Daniel’s Law, bringing the total number of claims against Red Violet to 19,035. See Ex. A ¶¶ 25, 57, 61.

51. In the WHEREFORE clause on page 23 of the Complaint, Plaintiffs request “actual damages, not less than liquidated damages under Daniel’s Law, at ‘$1,000 for each violation.’” See Ex. A at p. 23 (WHEREFORE clause (B)). Assuming each Covered Person or Individual Plaintiff asserts just one violation, the amount in controversy or actual damages alone would exceed $19,035,000. Accordingly, it is apparent from the face of the Complaint that the amount in controversy is well in excess of $75,000, exclusive of interest and costs.

52. In addition to actual damages, Plaintiffs also are seeking punitive damages. See Ex. A at p. 23 (WHEREFORE clause (C)).

53. For purposes of calculating the amount in controversy, punitive damages must be counted if they are available under New Jersey state law. Venuto v. Atlantis Motor Grp., LLC, No. 17-3363, 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 169598, at *8 (D.N.J. Oct. 13, 2017); see also Huber v. Taylor, 532 F.3d 237, 244 (3d Cir. 2008) (“[C]laims for punitive damages will generally satisfy the amount in controversy requirement because it cannot be stated to a legal certainty that the value of the plaintiff's claim is below the statutory minimum."); Frederico v. Home Depot, 507 F.3d 188, 199 (3d Cir. 2007) (noting that punitive damages must be considered when calculating the amount in controversy).

54. Under Daniel's Law, a court may award "punitive damages upon proof of willful or reckless disregard of the law." N.J.S.A. 56:8-166.1c(2).

55. Plaintiffs have asked the Court to award such damages for "willful noncompliance" with Daniel's Law, without limitation. See Ex. A at p. 23 (WHEREFORE clause (C)).

56. The New Jersey Punitive Damages Act also permits a successful plaintiff to recover up to "five times the liability of th[e] defendant for compensatory damages or $350,000, whichever is greater." N.J.S.A. 2A:15-5.14(b). "Thus, even in the absence of recovering compensatory damages, a plaintiff is able to recover up to $350,000 in punitive damages, under New Jersey law." Ward v. Barnes, 545 F. Supp. 2d 400, 418–19 (D.N.J. 2008).

57. The Individual Plaintiffs are seeking in excess of $75,000 based on their claimed punitive damages alone. See, e.g., Granovsky v. Pfizer, Inc., 631 F. Supp. 2d 554, 563 (D.N.J. 2009) (citing N.J.S.A. 2A:15-5.14(b) to note that New Jersey law allows punitive damages up to five times the amount of compensatory damages, and noting as such in affirming satisfaction of amount in controversy).

58. The Individual Plaintiffs also are seeking to recover their attorneys' fees. See Ex. A at p. 23 (WHEREFORE clause (D)). A claim for recovery of attorney's fees is generally regarded as seeking thirty percent (30%) of the compensatory and/or punitive damages alleged. See Ciccone v. Progressive Specialty Ins. Co., No. 20-981, 2020 WL 7319777, at *4 (M.D. Pa.

Dec. 11, 2020) (including attorneys' fees in the amount of 30 percent of the total of plaintiff's compensatory and treble damages to find that plaintiff's individual claims met the amount in controversy); see also Frederico, 507 F.3d at 199 (citing In re Rite Aid Corp. Sec. Litig., 396 F.3d 294, 303 (3d Cir. 2005) (noting the Federal Judicial Center's median figure of 27 to 30 percent fee recovery in class actions)).

59. As outlined above, the Complaint plausibly alleges actual damages and punitive damages that far exceed the $75,000 threshold for each Individual Plaintiff. These amounts, however, can also be increased by an additional 30 percent for recovery of attorney's fees, thus further satisfying the claimed amount in controversy.

60. Red Violet reserves the right to object to the damages sought by Plaintiffs, and disputes that Plaintiffs are entitled to recover any damages. Nevertheless, based on a fair reading of the allegations in the Complaint, the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000, exclusive of interests and costs and therefore, satisfies the amount in controversy requirement under 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a).

D. ALL OTHER GROUNDS FOR REMOVAL ARE SATISFIED

61. Plaintiffs' Complaint is properly removable to this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1441.

62. This case is a civil action within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 1441.

63. This action is being removed "to the district court of the United States for the district and division embracing the place where such action is pending," pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1441(a). The District of New Jersey embraces the Superior Court of New Jersey, Law Division, Monmouth County, the forum in which the removed action was pending.

64. In accordance with 28 U.S.C. § 1446(d), upon filing of this Notice of Removal, Red Violet will give written notice of this Notice of Removal to Plaintiffs. Red Violet also will provide written notice of removal to the Clerk of the Superior Court of New Jersey, Law Division, Monmouth County.

WHEREFORE, Defendant Red Violet removes this action to the United States District Court for District of New Jersey.
